Northeast on the Road of Progress

Beginning of an era of Peace, Stability and Development

The focus of North East India has always been Top Priority for Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi. The Prime Minister has called these 8 states Ashtalakshmi and has put before us the vision of 'Purvodaya'. The Ministry of Home Affairs has successfully worked to promote Peace and Stability under the Prime Minister's guidance by enhancing the dignity, culture, language, literature, and music of North-east with a "Whole of Government Approach."

Challenge

After independence, the pace of development in the North Eastern states, had slowed down and had been a victim of negligence and petty politics for a long time. The situation was evident that the violent separatism was spreading its feet, thus, the challenge was not only to restore peace in these states but also to bring them back to the mainstream of development and make them partners in the development journey of New India.

Strategy

Soon after assuming office in 2014, Shri Narendra Modi gave priority to the North East under the Act East Policy. The Home Ministry played a special role in achieving the Prime Minister's vision in these states affected by border and violent separatism. The Home Ministry formulated a three-pronged strategy to deal with this challenge.

The first objective is to preserve and promote the dialects, languages, dance, music, food, culture and to draw attention to it throughout India.

The second is to put an end to all disputes in the North-East and make it a Peaceful and Stable Region.

And the third important objective is to make North East a Developed Region.

Our Northeast is exceptionally distinctive. Its natural beauty is unmatched, and the people who reside here are highly skilled. The Northeast is now acknowledged for its outstanding accomplishments as well.

- Shri Narendra Modi (Hon'ble Prime Minister)

Impact

The effect of these strategies is that, since 2014 peace has been established in the North East. Separatists are joining the mainstream, settling border disputes between states, whereas ethnic conflict is decreasing and new dimensions of development are being shaped continuously.

Safe North East

Under the guidance of Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi and under the leadership of Home Minister Shri Amit Shah, the Union Home Ministry has set a target to end all disputes in the North East and start a new era of peace, stability, and development in the Northeast.

Home Minister Shri Amit Shah ji believes that development cannot be materialized without peace, if every person wants employment, health, and education along with a house and electricity, then it cannot be done by taking up arms. There was a time when agitations and disputes in the Northeast were every now and then. But in the last few years, the Modi government has successfully set the narrative that "development requires cooperation and diligence, not agitation or disagreement."

It is the result of the strong policy of the Modi government and the time-bound strategies of the Home Minister that gradually all the problems of the North-East are being solved and the region is moving forward on the path of peace and stability.

Since 2014, the security situation in the North Eastern States has improved considerably under the government of Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi. The Home Minister, Shri Amit Shah, reviews the security situation and development programs in North East India every 15 days.

Tree Plantation Campaign

Targeted Campaign To Environment Protection

According to Hon'ble Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi, we Indians belong to a culture in which harmony with nature is at the center of our thinking. Today India is leading the world in environment promotion under the leadership of the Hon'ble Prime Minister. Taking forward the thinking of the Hon'ble Prime Minister, in January 2020, the Hon'ble Union Home Minister made a Tree Plantation project with the help of the CAPFs. In this project, a target was set to plant one crore trees every year.

Campaign Features

- The trees to be planted are of indigenous varieties which provide health benefits as well like Neem, Tamarind, Peepal, Sheesham, Banyan etc.

The responsibility of the harmonious growth of the trees planted by the Hon'ble Union Home Minister was handed over to the concerned commanding officers, about which he himself takes regular information.

We have always considered nature alive and our relationship with it symbiotic. The customs of worshipping the trees, celebrating seasons in the forms of fasts and festivals and the lullabies and folktales have always cherished this relationship.

Further action plan

- On the instructions of the Hon'ble Union Home Minister, the Directors General of CAPFs have been requested to regularly review the development of planted saplings during the campaign of 03 years.
- The plantation teams (Green Warriors) involved in the Tree Plantation Drive are continuously taking care of these plants. If a planted plant gets damaged or dries due to any reason, then a new plant is planted in its place.
- Team-wise responsibilities have been assigned for the upkeep and care of these saplings till these saplings take the shape of a fully grown tree and become self-sustaining.

We should utilize natural resources and not exploit them. Due to indiscriminate development, global warming, and climate change have become two dreary threats to the world, in the presence of which no country needs other enemies. Tree plantation is the only way to save the environment today.
